

THE NATIONAL TRUST

Direct | Inform | Display

National Trust – full interpretation project at Clumber Park

Interpretation lectern

The onset of a complete new Visitor Experience including shop, interpretation centre and café at Clumber Park, provided Caliba the opportunity to produce a series of interpretation panels and lecterns for use around the 3800 acre site and major visitor attraction.

The lecterns were designed to show a standard “UV Exterior” specification Interpretation graphic panel along with two number A4 inserts to be managed by the National Trust team on site.

The panels were examples of the standard rugged external specification developed by Caliba to meet the demands of weathering; graffiti and abuse.

After installation of the lecterns, Caliba were commissioned to provide a series of timber displays within an external shelter allowing the client to display posters and leaflets.

Static graphic panel with flexible poster inserts

Timber display boards and leaflet dispensers

Signs: Interpretation panel and lecterns; Timber poster display units

Description

Fabricated steel lecterns with A1 visible area plus 2No A4 insert windows accessible by hinged top.
UV Exterior graphic panels
Bespoke timber display and leaflet holders

Specification

Steel lecterns with external coatings plus VE grade satin polycarbonate panels with 1440 dpi digital graphics.

Timber display with looped nylon pin boards and external ‘lidded’ leaflet holders for 1/3rd A4 and A5.

Value

£9000